

A BERKELEY HEIR.

DR WILLIAM O'NEILL HEIR TO $1,000,000.

The Various Heirs Now Making Arrangements to Have the Money Distributed.

Everybody in Berkeley knows Dr. William O'Neill of South Berkeley, who is without doubt an heir to the vast estate left by Lord O'Neill, Earl of Antrim. We have a little history on this subject that will be published tomorrow that will show conclusively that Dr. O'Neill of South Berkeley is surely a bona fide heir.

Lord O'Neill died before Dr. William O'Neill was born. The father of the present Berkeley claimant filed a claim in the Court of Chancery many years ago. For half a century the proceedings have been dragging along. Fathers and sons and even grandsons who might have come in for some of the money have been born and died.

After his father passed away Dr. O'Neill filed his claim, and since then he has been waiting the final proceedings, which will give each of fifty-two heirs about $1,000,000 apiece and leave the very liberal allowance of something like $30,000,000 to be absorbed by legal and other expenses.

Dr. O'Neill was born in Balibay, County Monaghan, Ireland, in 1834, the night of the big wind. When he was nine years old he came to the United States with his father, and in 1843 he was settled in Buffalo, N. Y. There he resided many years and was married.

Dr. O'Neill studied in the St. Joseph Academy at Buffalo. He entered into journalistic work at an early age, and during a period of years in the '70s he published at Buffalo two papers, the Sunday Transcript and the Anti-Monopolist. About the same time he devoted much attention to the study of special diseases, preparatory to the practice of medicine.

Thirteen years ago Dr. O'Neill came to California. He was located in San Francisco for a time, then moved to Oakland and then to his present home on Ashby avenue, where he has resided for about a dozen years. He took up the real estate business some time ago. All this time he has been contributing money with the other claimants for a share in the estate for the prosecution of claims in the Court of Chancery. He is informed now that the case is in the last legal stage, and that a distribution of Lord O'Neill's $80,000,000 is very likely to take place next February. In anticipation of this a meeting of the American heirs will be held either at Chicago or New York next December. At this meeting Dr. O'Neill thinks that he will be represented by Mr. Bissell, President Cleveland's former law partner, and since member of the Cabinet. The heirs are distributed as follows: United States, 41; Ireland, 7; Scotland, 3; and England, 1. The Scotch heirs are in Glasgow. The English heir resides in London.

Dr. O'Neill describes the estate roughly as embracing the entire county of Leinster. The O'Neils once reigned as King of that province. There are three branches of the family who spell their names O'Neill, O'Neil and O'Neal. There is another O'Neill living in California who has proved up his claim in the Chancery Court. He is Richard O'Neill of Bakersfield. Dr. O'Neill also thinks that the O'Neills at Golden Gate are related. Thirty years ago the whole O'Neill family history was published in the Boston Pilot. From these publications much valuable information has been obtained by Irish-American heirs.

The Board of Education will hold a special meeting this evening to consider the matter of public school buildings. A committee of the Board of Trustees will also be in attendance.

Out of Sight.

Isaac Bottomley, who was the manager of the dog fight at his place a week ago last Sunday morning, has not yet been found by the Sheriff, who is seeking to arrest him upon the charge of selling liquor without a license. The warrant was issued several days ago, but though diligent search has been made for the dog fighter, no trace of him can be found.

Bottomley is already under arrest, but is out on bonds, for having been the manager of the dog fight. His trial upon this charge has been set for the 9th of October, and if he does not appear by that time his bond will be forfeited, and a bench warrant issued by Judge Clift.

As soon as he comes into court upon the charge of dog-fighting he will be arrested upon the charge of selling liquor without a license.

United States Marshal Barry Baldwin will sell out the Bottomly effects, which he secured last week, in a few days to satisfy the claim of the Government against Bottomly. This will leave Bottomly little or nothing at his resort, for what he has is badly mortgaged.

EPWORTH LEAGUE EXERCISES AT W. B. METHODIST CHURCH.

He Was Twenty and She Was Twenty-eight—They Will Get Married.

M. E. Church Services.

Yesterday morning the Rev. Mr. Pierce, the new pastor of the West Berkeley M. E. Church preached his first sermon to a large congregation.

In the evening the services were under the supervision of the Society of Christian Endeavor, and the church was crowded to the doors.

The evening services were begun by singing praise songs, number 172 and 161 and 15, and hymn 327 by the congregation, this was followed by a prayer by the pastor.

Miss Eva Brown then read the scriptures, and was followed by an address by the president.

The league then rendered a song entitled sunshine. The following persons then read papers, all of which were well received:

Eben Body, Anna Dickieson, Miss Turner and Amy Heywood.

Praise song 188 was sung by the congregation, after which a paper was read by Miss K. Brown.

The pastor then made an address after which the closing hymn was sung.

The pastor then pronounced the benediction, and the congregation departed for their homes.

The Epworth League will give a reception to the pastor next Wednesday evening, to which all are invited.

Berkeley's Happenings.

The hours of the evening were well nigh spent when the young man whose emotion had been on the increase suddenly fell on his knee, and seizing the hand of the lady imprinted thereon a heated kiss. It filled her with emotion which nearly threw over a woman's barrier. With more years than he, she quickly regained her composure. But her eyes could not help reassure him, however much it was her outward intention not to do so.

With a determination he said: "Now, my dear, that we are engaged, why may I not imprint upon your cheek your age in kisses?"

Her eyes glistened with the lustre of diamonds as she replied: "You know not what you ask." Of course he did not know her age. "Do let me try," said he with vehemence. She could not resist him and he commenced. As she counted her heart almost stopped its beating. In quick succession he followed on until twenty was reached, and then suddenly stopped. He was seven short. Her mind was instantly relieved, and the strain had been so great that reaction immediately commenced. It set her in such a fervor that she clasped him in her arms, and in return as to his age gave him thirty kisses, which was eight over. They were both satisfied, and the marriage will take place next Sunday.

Last Friday Mrs. Boone, wife of Professor Boone entertained a number of lady friends at an afternoon luncheon. The guests included the wives of a number of the U. C. professors.

The engagement is announced of Ralph La Forrest Hathorn, a former University boy of Berkeley and Miss Georgia Knight of Boston. Mr. Hathorn is at present in the senior class at Harvard.

Miss Kate F. Byrne will give her musical recital tomorrow evening at the North Berkeley Congregational church.

B. Amist, a laundryman of Telegraph avenue was arrested on Saturday evening last for beating his wife. Not securing the necessary bail of $20 he was taken to the County Jail. Yesterday after he was sobered up his friends came to his rescue and he was bailed out.

It Is Said

That the six richest men in the world can draw their checks as follows: Le Hung Chang, $500,000,000; John D. Rockefeller, $180,000,000; the Duke of Westminster, $100,000,000; Col. North of England, $100,000,000; Woh Qua (Canton) $100,000,000.

That the railroad company is trying to improve the appearance of its grounds at the East Berkeley station.

That the birth of the fourteenth daughter of the fourteenth daughter of the fourteenth mother at Kohomo, Indiana, the other day wants a little more proof to give the assertion strength.

That the bi-criders procession in Oakland must have been a long one Saturday evening. A policeman saw a little girl crying on the sidewalk and upon asking her what was the matter she said, pointing to the wheels, "Have been here an hour and can't get across the street. I want to go home."

That Miss Minnie Dupree, now playing the character of Phyllis De Belleville in the great English play "Burmah" at the Boston Theatre, is a pretty San Francisco girl, 24 years of age. In 1888 she left school suddenly and made her debut in the Grand Opera House, San Francisco, where she played Bob Henry with E. G. Stetson in Belphegor, the Mountebank.

That Grover Cleveland is as fond of sleeping as he is of fishing and puts in ten and twelve hours at a time. The gold reserve is being lowered daily just the same.

That Durrant is rapidly failing if one would view the pictures printed in the Examiner today, one showing the first day he was put in prison, the next one a few weeks later and the last as he appears today.

That Ben Hamilton has returned from his tour through the northern counties, after inspecting the different fruit farms in that section.

That Colis P. Huntington says that his railroad is not making any money for him. Too bad. Freight train after freight train and passenger trains loaded pass through Berkeley every day.

That Henry Langenour, the young Yolo Assemblyman, is no longer missing. He arrived in San Francisco from the East last Saturday evening, and registered at the California Hotel. He says he went broke gambling in the East, and that the reason he ran away was on account of his wife. Poor excuse.

A section in the new army regulations requires at all army stations, whenever the flag shall be hauled down, the band shall play the "Star Spangled Banner," and whenever the national flag, carried by troops, passes officers and soldiers not in ranks, they shall salute it.

The committee from the Oakland City Council failed to show up at the Columbia Boathouse in Sessions Basin yesterday to examine the bathing suits of the members of the above named club. Guess they thought the "trunks" fitted "tight" enough.

From late dispatches it seems that the steamer Humboldt will prove a total wreck, as she is fast being beaten to pieces on the rocks. No passengers were lost, but most of the baggage was.

The engine house at the end of the long trestle which extends from Emeryville into the bay, was burned last evening, causing a loss of several hundred dollars.

Special dispatches to the GAZETTE.

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Suicide Diorno, a lad 7 years old was struck and instantly killed by an electric car this morning on Broadway street between Dupont and Kearney streets. The lad attempted to cross the street but was not quick as the car was running at a rapid rate of speed and the motorman could not stop in time.

Eugene Koeberle, at the Great Northern.

Gets Ten Years.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Judge Belcher this morning sentenced Lizzie Bayer, the manager of an alleged patent medicine bureau, to ten years in San Quentin. It seems that she has been advertising in the papers situations furnished free, and has her victims put up as much money as she could get out of them as a deposit, and then give them a box of pills to sell. She swindled a man named Michael Flaherty out of $250.

To Lynch the Cashier.

Perry, O. T., Sept. 30.—A messenger from Pawnee, twenty-five miles east of here, says that Cashier and President Berry of the Farmers and Citizens' Bank of that town, is being pursued by a mob of angry depositors, and will be lanced if caught. It leaked out that the bank would not open its doors on Saturday, and that a bill for a receiver was being prepared. The depositors immediately placed an attachment on the bank building and assets to the amount of $30,000.

C. L. Berry, the cashier and president of the bank, was found and tried to explain the failure, but the people would not hear him, and had it not been for the officers he would have been mobbed on the spot. Berry left and the crowd became more furious, and when the sheriff opened the bank safe and found only $20 or $30 in cash, the mob got beyond the control of the officers and broke for Berry's house. He had been notified, however, and had made his escape. A number of men, the messenger says, mounted horses and went after him. If Berry is caught he will be lynched.

Gave Bonds.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 30.—James Huney gave bonds today in the United States District Court to the amount of $30,000. The bonds were approved by United States District Attorney Dow last night.

Horrible.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—The story told by Maggie Dalton that the bodies of scores of persons dying at the female hospital in this city were sold, and the coffins containing bricks and railroad ties were buried in their stead, has been confirmed. A number of graves were opened today, and in no instance was a body found, but in their stead were railroad ties, bricks, gravel and stones. Maggie Dalton was employed as a domestic in the hospital and gave the thing away.

Now In Command.

Glasgow, Sept. 30.—The British steamer Wallachia, bound from this port to Trinidad, struck on a rock in Beacon Bay yesterday and sank. All on board were saved.

Settled by Arbitration.

New York, Sept. 30.—The strike of the derrick men and their sympathizers, which involved 2000, has been settled by arbitration. The men were getting $2 75 and struck for $3 and have accepted $2 90.

Plot to Kill Ito.

Yokohama, September 30.—It is now learned that no actual attempt was made on the life of Marquis Ito, Prime Minister and President of the Council of Japan, as was first reported yesterday, but a conspiracy had been discovered, the parties to which intended to kill Marquis Ito. On Wednesday night last documents which implicated the man who has been arrested were found.

Saved by the Bicycle.

New York, Sept. 30.—Miss Frances Elizabeth Willard, temperance evangelist, landed from the American line steamship New York yesterday, overflowing with the milk of human kindness, and more than ever convinced that the world is getting sober.

"One of the things that helps temperance is the bicycle. I am a bicycle enthusiast and after three years' hard work have at last induced Lady Henry Somerset to ride a wheel. The bicycle is spoiling the business of the saloons and the low variety theatres. I think the bicycle is heaven's way of helping people to have a good time without using stimulants.

"Do I favor bloomers? I don't oppose them, though I don't wear them. I am fifty-five years old, and I don't think it would be suitable, but I don't see any objection to them. You know Worth, the great French dressmaker, said that the prettiest dress a woman could wear was the divided skirt of the Persian woman and that is a sort of bloomer. I suppose the opinion of Worth ought to count. I think I have seen only one woman in bloomers in my life. They didn't use them in England.

Naval Constructor W. J. Baxter has recommended to the Navy Department the sale of the ships Pensacola and Swatara, now lying in Rotten Row. ## TOWN OFFICIAL PAPER.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1895

MOST MALICIOUS.

For several days past the newspapers of San Francisco have been making attacks upon General Nelson A. Miles and giving reasons why he shouldn't be made commander of the United States army vice General Schofield, who was retired yesterday. General Miles was accused by these papers of disobeying orders, and of lying during his campaign against Geronimo in Arizona and New Mexico.

These lying and libelous articles were written for a purpose as each one of them was telegraphed on to the Eastern papers after publication here with the hope that they would prevent General Miles appointment today but they fell short of their object and General Miles is now the commander of the army and unless death intervenes it will be several years before he is retired.

All of this opposition to General Miles has come from officers who graduated from West Point, because General Miles had won his spurs honorably by bravery, without being raised a duke by the National Government. This is distasteful to such officers as Graham who is in charge at the Presidio, and other West Point officers, who hold that a man who was not educated on the Hudson does not know anything about military matters.

The writer of this article was in Arizona at the time General Miles succeeded General Crook and was to the front on many occasions, especially when Geronimo was captured and knows that the statements made in the San Francisco papers, as told them by army officers, are lies made out of whole cloth. Previous to the arrival of General Miles, General Crook was captured by Geronimo and his band and as they were out of ammunition and provisions, they arranged with that West Point officer to save his life and that of his troopers if he would allow them to return to the reservation, and see that they were not harmed. Crook made this promise and he kept his word for as soon as they returned to San Carlos that reservation was guarded by the military, under command of Captain Pierce, and an outraged territory could not harm them.

As soon as Geronimo and his band had got rested and had provided themselves with the best of improved rifles, field glasses, ammunition, provisions, etc., at the government's expense, they once more went upon the warpath and left a trail of blood behind them. The people of Arizona were desperate and they demanded that General Crook be removed and that General Miles be placed in command and their request was granted. General Miles at once took the field and got rid of General Crook's scouts, whose chief duty seemed to be to inform the hostiles of the movement of troops and cache ammunition for them, and got Yuma and Papago Indians, who were the enemies of the Apaches, as scouts, and waged warfare upon Geronimo at once.

All the troops in Arizona were kept on the move and the Mexican Government was enlisted in the fight.

General Miles got a permit from the Mexican government to allow his troops to follow the renegades anywhere on Mexican soil, and the Mexican troops were granted the same rights on American soil. It was then that Miles put that gallant Indian fighter, Captain Lawton, upon the trail of the renegades, with orders to follow them to the end, and to give no quarter whenever he came across them. This Captain Lawton did, following them all over the southeastern part of Arizona and through the mountain fastnesses of Mexico and the Sierra Madres, never giving them a chance to rest.

Finally, when they started back through Arizona, he headed them off, and when they would have returned to the Sierra Madres they were confronted by the Mexican troops. Knowing that they could expect nothing from the Mexicans but instant death, they surrendered to General Miles unconditionally, and he hurried the leaders off to Fort Bowie to keep them from the violence of the cowboys, who wanted their lives.

He was then ordered to send them to Florida, which he did. As far as the government telling him to turn the Indians over to the civil authorities, it never did so, and it never will do so as long as an Apache is pampered and cared for by it, no matter how many lives he may sacrifice.

VERY BENEFICIAL.

When the Board of Trustees passed a resolution ordering the sidewalks and gutters to be freed from grass and weeds and be made in a cleanly condition they started the accomplishment of something nearly as beneficial to the town as macadamizing the streets.

While the latter is of a more substantial character and as far as appearances go arrives at the desired end, the former will certainly give to the superficial observer something pleasant for the eye to look upon.

Whether the order for the Superintendent of Streets to clean the places left unclean will affect the title to any lot, in front of which the work may have been ordered may be a question for the Courts to determine.

The effect of the order will scare many people to keep the sidewalks and streets in front of their property in a cleanly condition. It will also do something more. When the heavy rains pour down the water will not have so many obstructions in the gutters and will thus pass away more freely. The streets will not be overflowed so much and the condition will not be so muddy.

All of these improvements have been accomplished at comparatively no expense and the Trustees should have the proper credit accorded to them in the premises.

That to test a thermometer you must turn it on end and if the mercury still fills the tube it is a good one.

Notice!

The Oakland Gas Co. is advertising their gas to be used as a cheap fuel for cooking and heating, and for lighting purposes. But how much better it would be to have a small Imperial Gas Machine, and be your own banker and your neighbors' also. Furnish yourself with a beautiful, clear, steady light, and with fuel for cooking and heating purposes. See J. Scriber, Addison street, Berkeley, and he will tell you of the neighbors here who have them.

Whereas, the Board of Trustees of the Town of Berkeley has found and do hereby find the fact to be that the public interest and convenience require the closing up in part of Bancroft way and of the whole of South street in the Town of Berkeley, therefore be it

Resolved, by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Berkeley that this Board deems it to be required by the public interest and convenience that Bancroft way be closed up in part, and that South street, in said town be closed up in whole from the westerly line of California street to the easterly line of Spaulding street, and from the easterly line of Spaulding street to the easterly line of Third street, saving and excepting so much thereof as is included within the exterior lines of the following avenues and street to wit: Second avenue, Spaulding avenue and Sacramento street.

Resolved further, that it is the intention of said Board of Trustees to order the closing up in part of Bancroft way and in whole of South street, shall result in the closing up of said Bancroft way from the westerly line of California street to the easterly line of Spaulding street, and from the easterly line of Spaulding street to the easterly line of Third street, and of South street from the westerly line of Sacramento street to the easterly line of Second avenue, and from the westerly line of Second avenue to the easterly line of Third street.

That the lands deemed necessary to be taken for the closing up in part of Bancroft way and in whole of South street, shall result in the closing up of said Bancroft way from the westerly line of California street to the easterly line of Spaulding street, and from the easterly line of Spaulding street to the easterly line of Third street, and of South street from the westerly line of Sacramento street to the easterly line of Second avenue, and from the westerly line of Second avenue to the easterly line of Third street.

Fourth—Commencing at the intersection of the easterly line of Spaulding street with the northerly line of Bancroft way, as shown on said map of the Spaulding tract, and running thence southerly 571.5 feet to the westerly line of the Spaulding tract; thence southerly along said westerly line of California street 10.18 feet to the southerly line of Bancroft way, thence westerly along said southerly line of Spaulding street 252.2 feet to the easterly line of Spaulding street, and thence southerly along the easterly line of Spaulding street to the point of commencement, being all that portion of Bancroft way and South street between the westerly line of California street and the easterly line of Third street, saving and excepting so much thereof as is included within the exterior lines of the following avenues and street, viz: Second avenue, Spaulding avenue and Sacramento street.

That the exterior boundary of the lands to be affected or benefited by the said closing up in part of Bancroft way and in whole of South street, and to be assessed to pay the damages are as follows, to wit:

Commencing at a point on the westerly line of California street, which would be intersected by the northerly line of Bancroft way, as shown on said map of the Spaulding tract, and running thence southerly in the same direction, as the said northerly line of Bancroft way is shown upon the map of the McGee Tract, of record in the office of the County Recorder of said county, and running thence southerly and along the westerly line of California street 300 feet; thence westerly and parallel with the northerly line of Bancroft way, produced westerly, as aforesaid, to the easterly line of Third avenue, aforesaid; thence southerly along the easterly line of Third avenue and said easterly line produced southerly in the same direction, 600 feet; thence easterly in a straight line to a point on the westerly line of California street, distant thereon southerly from the point of commencement 261.18 feet, and thence northerly along the westerly line of California street 300.18 feet to the point of commencement.

Resolved further, that the Berkeley Gazette, a daily newspaper printed, published and circulated in the said Town of Berkeley, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which the Superintendent of Streets of said Town shall cause notice of the passage of this resolution to be published, and that said notice be published and posted as required by law.

For further particulars reference is hereby made to said Resolution on file in the office of the Town Clerk.

KINDLY HINTS.

It is a pleasure to the GAZETTE to give credit to any one or to any body of men for any good that may follow to their fellowmen by the action done. It is also the province of a newspaper to call attention particularly of public officers to what is their duty whenever they fail to perform it.

Some years ago a franchise was granted for a railroad on San Pablo avenue. A certain amount of work was done to hold the franchise for a certain length of time. This work consisted of laying a few rails on the avenue.

The parties to whom the franchise was granted, not coming up to its terms, as expressed in the ordinance, forfeited it and the previous Board of Trustees so declared it.

A question arose as to the time allowed. It was claimed that the general law gave more time than the ordinance. Allowing that to be so that time has expired and now it is the duty of the Trustees to order those rails to be taken up.

Once more, the business of hiring out bicycles by the hour or day has come to be of much importance and perhaps more than that of stable keepers hiring out horses and carriages. The wheel business interferes very much with the stable man and he has a grievance that he has to pay a license for carrying on his trade and the cyclists do not. It is a proper business to tax and as it is a luxury it will stand a good one. As it is a matter of quite a revenue to the town the Trustees cannot take action upon it any too soon.

Fall Millinery.

Miss E. Barnett, formerly of No. 14 Grant avenue, San Francisco, but now on Center street opposite the Kellogg school, Berkeley, is now receiving her fall millinery. She has also dress making parlors and dress-makers' findings at 'Frisco prices. 89

A LITTLE CHILD.

Bright, golden curls and innocent white brow,
And lips like red rose petals blown apart,
And laughing eyes of blue! I pray you now,
Come yet a little closer to my heart!

Nay, fear me not! Thy child heart understands
Love that trusts all and knows not to condemn.
Give me to hold thy tiny, tender hands,
That I may warm my withered soul with them!

Oh, let me feel—upon my memory
No earthly love since my life hath smiled—
That heaven in mercy hath reserved for me
The kisses and the glancing of a child.
—Atlanta Constitution.

PROFESSIONAL MOURNERS.

Curious Calabrian Customs Which May Be Observed in New York.

In the Italian quarter I found myself the other day in a home which had been darkened by a double misfortune. A little Italian boy had fallen from a fire escape to the street and been instantly killed. His widowed mother, when she came upon the body of her son, went mad with grief and attempted to take her own life. She was taken to the hospital.

The boy's body lay upon a table, and a blazing candelabrum stood at its head. At the side the boy's foster father and his wife knelt in prayer. Beated about the room was a group of women chanting an Italian death wail. One of the women raised her face, and her quivering voice filled the room:
"Happiness has departed from us forever!"

And the others droned the refrain:
"Forever!"
"He will never be absent from our thoughts!"

"Never from our thoughts!"
And so on, strophe and antistrophe, the chief wailer leading and the chorus echoing the dismal refrain. It was a sight and a sound to move even the tardy sensibilities of a reporter.

Such scenes are not uncommon in the Italian quarter, though they seldom come under the eye of visitors. The professional mourner is an institution in some of the provinces of southern Italy. She—the office belongs entirely to the softer sex—is analogous to the Irish "keener," but with the difference that her wail is more musical than weird, whereas the "keener" is weird, piercing—almost anything but musical.

The Italian wailers—they are called "prediche" in their native tongue—are doubtless descendants of the professional mourners of ancient Rome. They are most common, and their office is most clearly defined in the provinces of Abruzzo and Calabria and in Sicily. There they are regularly retained and rewarded with a fee. In other provinces a relative of the afflicted family may assume the office and lead the chorus, or the function may be of a wholly miscellaneous character, all the mourners joining in a song of woe.—New York Herald.

No "Three Estates of the Realm."

For all practical purposes there were only two estates in the English parliament, lords and commons. Thus the phrase of the three estates, which had a meaning in France, became meaningless in England. For centuries past there has been no separate estate of the clergy; some of their highest members have belonged to the estate of the lords and the rest to the estate of the commons. Hence has arisen a common but not unnatural misconception, as old as the long parliament, as to the meaning of the three estates.

Men constantly use those words as if they meant the three elements among which the legislative power is divided, king, lords and commons. But an estate means a rank, an order or class of men, like the lords, the clergy or the commons. The king is not an estate, because there is no class or order of kings, the king being one person alone by himself. The proper phrase is the king and the three estates of the realm. But in England, as I have already shown, the phrase is meaningless, as we have, in truth, two estates only.—E. A. Freeman's "Growth of the English Constitution."

Samuel J. Tilden's Umbrella.

Abram S. Hewitt, who was a great friend of Samuel J. Tilden, one day brought into his office an old cotton umbrella, with a broken rib or two and a few holes. It could not have cost over 50 cents. He placed it in the accustomed corner, beside a fine $10 silk umbrella belonging to J. L. Haigh, his partner. When starting home in the afternoon he walked off with Haigh's umbrella, leaving his own, which Haigh had to use, as it was raining hard. On opening the old cotton affair Haigh noticed a piece of white tape sewed on the inside near the top, and on going to a light read, "Samuel J. Tilden, Gramercy park, New York." The next day he returned it to the same corner and said to Mr. Hewitt, "This is Mr. Tilden's umbrella you forgot last night." "Oh, yes," said Hewitt, rising and going after it, "I am very glad to get it back. Mr. Tilden is extremely careful about his umbrella." "But where is my silk one that you took away last night?" Haigh asked. "Oh, I don't know anything about that," was the reply, and that was all the satisfaction that Haigh ever got.—New York Press.

The Nerry Barber.

I struck a nerry barber down in southern California once. You know they have earthquakes down there so often that they don't mind a terrestrial shake up any more than we do a thunderstorm. But for strangers the sensation of having the earth do a sand jig under you is far from pleasant. It makes you lose confidence in the stability of things.

I was sitting in a barber's chair one day when the windows began to rattle and the floor to heave like the deck of a ship. The barber was a dago of some kind, but he had nerve. I started to jump and run, but he held my head down firmly and said:
"Seet pairfectly still, senor, or I might have se mesfortune to out you."
And, ding me, if he didn't keep right along shaving, with the shanty rocking like a cradle, and he never even scratched me. But it scared me so my beard hasn't grown well since.—Washington Post.

Sunshine and Disease.

It is rather surprising to be told that sunshine is not always a promoter of health, and that London fog may be a blessing in disguise. In experiments by De Renzi guinea pigs inoculated with tuberculosis died after 24 to 89 days when kept in glass boxes in the sunshine, but survived only 20 to 41 days in opaque wooden boxes. This makes it evident that sunshine is a material aid in combating consumption. In a later investigation by Dr. Masella, however, guinea pigs were inoculated with cholera and typhoid bacilli respectively, when it was found that previous exposure to sunshine increased the susceptibility to both diseases, while exposure to sunshine after infection so accelerated the progress of the malady that death occurred in 3 to 5 hours instead of 15 to 24 hours. That this was not due to increase of temperature was proved by cooling the boxes in sunshine by a circulation of water.—London Letter.

Outdoor Work Preferred.

Some years ago a young Irishman was hunting for work among the farmers of a western town at harvest time.

He made his application to a benevolent looking farmer, who was attracted by the young man's frank, merry face, but was not really in need of extra help.

"Can you cradle?" he asked, after a moment's hesitation.

"Cradle, is it?" repeated the young Irishman in bewilderment. "That Oi can, sorr, bein the owidest av 11 children, but," he added persuasively, "couldn't yez give me a job out av dures, sorr?"—Youth's Companion.

Ambitious.

"My hair," remarked the baldheaded man as he rubbed his bare poll in a reminiscent way, "was the most ambitious thing about me."
"Ah?" responded his companion questioningly.
"Yes," it always came out on top."—Detroit Free Press.

A Faithful Servant.

One night Prince Talleyrand was suddenly awakened by the firing of a pistol and seeing his valet walking about the room he asked him what he was doing.

"There was a mouse in the room, your highness, and for fear it might disturb you I shot it."—Dia.

It is estimated that 1,200 tons of oyster feathers have been exported from Cape Colony during the past 80 years, valued at $50,000,000.

The largest tombstone in the world, a rough block of granite, marks the last resting place of Henry Scarlott of Upson county, Ga.

Notice!

The Oakland Gas Co. is advertising their gas to be used as a cheap fuel for cooking and heating, and for lighting purposes. But how much better it would be to have a small Imperial Gas Machine, and be your own banker and your neighbors' also. Furnish yourself with a beautiful, clear, steady light, and with fuel for cooking and heating purposes. See J. Scribe, Addison street, Berkeley, and he will tell you of the neighbors here who have them. 108

There is one thing in this world that in order to give satisfaction has got to be perfect, and that is a photograph. Naturally the artist who is thorough in his business and produces perfect pictures gets the trade. This accounts for the immense business done by Evans, the photographer at 1065 Washington street. He takes the finest cabinets in the land for $3 per dozen and has a large Berkeley patronage. 102
